1. It is my pleasure to commend [REDACTED] for his outstanding performance during his assignment with this Agency. It is requested that this communication be made a part of his official record.

2. [REDACTED] has served as principal Project Officer in the Building Planning Staff of the Office of Logistics. The Building Planning Staff is the central Agency central staff for the development of technical information, and for the executive management of all matters pertaining to the planning of the proposed Central Intelligence Agency headquarters building. In the performance of its functions, the Building Planning Staff conducts negotiations at high staff level with other Agencies of the Executive Branch of the Government and maintains constant liaison with the Architect-Engineer engaged in the development of architectural and engineering designs.

3. In all assignments, [REDACTED] has demonstrated unusual resourcefulness, tact and aggressiveness. His leadership, attitude and professional ability inspired the confidence of his associates. His judgment in matters of importance and considerable complexity is usually not encountered in officers of his present rank. He has been called upon frequently to provide oral briefs and other presentations which have proven greatly beneficial to this Agency. He has displayed unusual initiative and purposefulness in negotiating with other Government agencies to obtain their cooperation and assistance in many of our major construction programs.
